

Mergers, acquisitions, partnerships – a round-up of corporate events in security

New Arrivals - New Security Services

Adam Lipson, the former Vigilinx executive vice president for client services, has launched his own IT security consulting firm in New York. Network & Security Technologies will help organizations design, plan and implement secure networks, Internets and intranets that remain up and running continuously.

- www.netsectech.com